New public art project

The Wright Street entrance of Belmont Hub will soon be home to a new public artwork.

The artwork will connect Wright Street and Belmont Hub with an Acknowledgement of Country artwork based on the Noongar six seasons.

Award winning artist Yondée Shane Hansen's design provides a unique addition to the City's Public Art collection to emphasise the importance of indigenous identity and presence in the City of Belmont.

Timing of works 15 – 29 April 2024

Phase one of the artwork will be installed over two weeks, from Monday to Friday between 7am and 5pm.

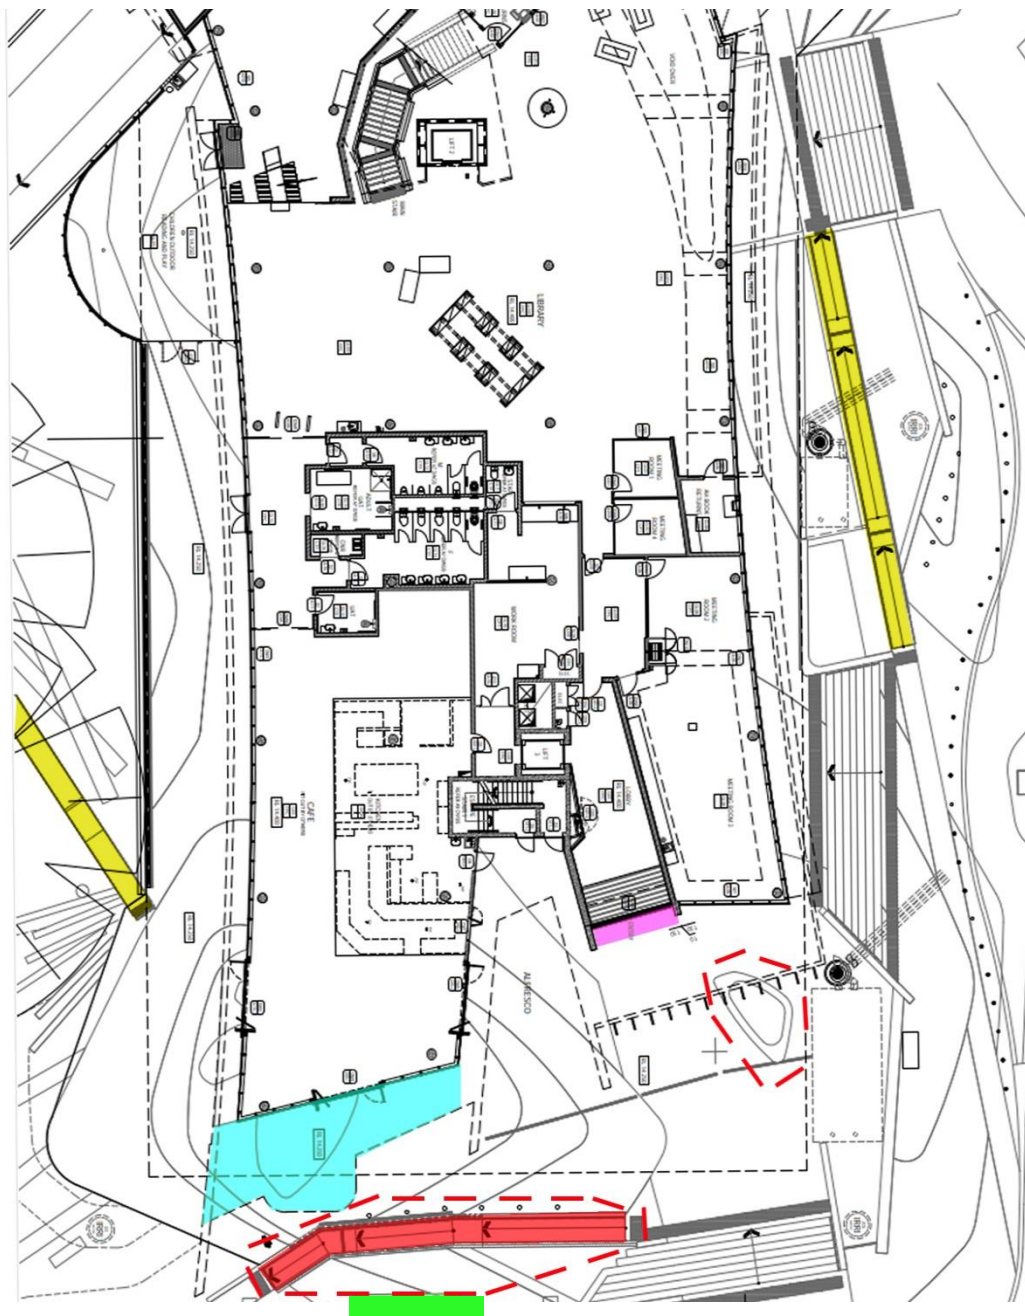

During the works, the ramp between Wright Street bus stop and Belmont Hub will be closed for approximately four days (15-18 April).

Alternative access will be via the Civic Centre car park or rear of Belmont Hub via ramps.

There will be some disruption while the artwork is being installed, we apologise for any inconvenience this may cause.
